Novacore”

IT'S TIME FOR CHANGE

As your customer's demands change, we are forced to adapt. Price and time have become major issues within the IT training industry as customer's demand more for less money and preferably also in less time. That requires change.

Just-in-time Web-based Training

Online courses provide engaging, multi-modal instruction where learners develop knowledge and practical skills at their own pace.

By allowing them to take training at a place they are comfortable with, when and where it is convenient for them, at work, at home or anywhere they have an Internet connection.

What is Novacore?

Novacore is a Learning Management System initially developed especially for organizations who have free e-learning benefits in accordance with their Microsoft Software Assurance Agreement.

Besides the official Microsoft e-learning catalogue, Novacore also provides access to the Element K course catalogue with training in areas such as Cisco, Adobe, VMware, Oracle, etc.

Novacore can manage your customers' needs for IT training on many levels, languages and platforms - and all through the same portal.
